Research Interests

My principle research interests are unusual experiences of self and agency in the schizophrenic spectrum. My current research takes an interdisciplinary approach involving methods from both experimental psychology (using eye tracking to implicitly measure disruptions of agency) and from phenomenological psychiatry (using interviews to assess disorders of self).

Education

2011 - PRESENT	BERLIN SCHOOL OF MIND & BRAIN, HUMBOLDT-UNIVERSITÄT ZU BERLIN
PhD	Psychology
Title	Disorders of Agency and Self in the Schizophrenic Spectrum: From phenomenological models to empirical data
Supervisors	Prof. Norbert Kathmann & Prof. Michael Pauen (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)
Status	Submitted, awaiting defense
2009 - 2011	UNIVERSITY COLLEGE LONDON & BIRKBECK, UNIVERSITY OF LONDON
MSc	Cognitive Neuroscience
Thesis	Sub-Conscious Stimuli Can Induce Directed Forgetting: Cognitive neuro-scientific approaches to Freudian repression
Supervisor	Dr. Katerina Fotopoulou (King's College London)
Award	Pass with Merit; equivalent to German 1,1
2007 - 2008	KING'S COLLEGE LONDON
MSc	Philosophy of Mental Disorder
Thesis	A Phenomenological Perspective on Schizophrenia: Disunity of self and disorientation in time.
